

Proud to Choose UE!

Former Operating Engineers (IUOE) members proudly voted to join UE. Here is why they did:

"I was a member of the Operating Engineers for over a decade. We made the change to join UE, and we had no idea that the differences would be so dramatic. UE came into our facility, learned our members, our process, and aggressively worked on our issues. When you make the choice to join with UE, the only question you will ask yourself is "why didn't we do this sooner"..."

Jeff Niceswanger, President UE Local 718
ConAgra Foods, Lancaster Ohio

"I was formerly an Operating Engineers (Local 825C) member. They were very friendly towards the company, gave us little input into contract negotiations, settled grievances without consulting the membership, and had us pay into a dues structure that was legalized extortion. We voted in UE and have never looked back. UE has given us the tools and assistance to control our own destiny. The new dues structure is more fair and equitable. The members run this Union.

We are the UE! - Jim Borowski, President, UE local 106, Hess Oil Refinery, Woodbridge, NJ

"The UE is what a Union is supposed to be. They don't waste your hard earned money. With Operating Engineers, we never saw a dime. We now have our own local treasury to spend as WE see fit. UE does what they say, and help is just a phone call away." Don Wolfe, President UE Local 777, ConAgra Foods, Lancaster, Ohio

"Prior to affiliating with the UE, our union was nothing more than payroll deduction. UE taught us what it means to be a member-run union, and they support us whenever we need or ask for their help. The UE is "TRULY THE BEST UNION OUT THERE!"

- Tom Armbruster, UE local 106, Hess Oil Refinery, Woodbridge, NJ

NJ Op. Engineers Local 68 President Pleads Guilty to Kickbacks & Theft

He pleaded guilty in Newark federal court to receiving kickbacks and embezzling in connection with a business transaction during his tenure as head of the union's job training program and was arrested.
